MONTPELIER

Sanford K. Daniels and Chairman Robert W. Simonds of the industrial accident board were in Burlington today to attend the convention of the Vermont branch of the Federation of Labor, making the trip in Mr. Simonds' automobile.

Edward Sherburne left this morning for Rutland, where he will visit friends for a few days.

Automobile tourists registered at the Pavilion: Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Haugh; Barton, N. Y.; H. P. Gill and J. A. Gill of Philadelphia; Walter Neibling, H. Whitman and A. Tinkler of Newark; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Dwinell, Misses Kellogg and Jewett, E. J. Jewett and chauffeur of Winchester, Mass.; Lucy Price, Horace Braham, Robert Barnes, Grace Mills and K. G. Barnes, New York City; Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Chase, Newport, R. I.

Rev. J. M. Brown of Rutland was a visitor in the city yesterday, being accompanied by Rev. Bernard Kelly of Manchester.

Company H. V. N. G., which has been at Essex Junction in camp along with the other militia companies in the state, arrived in Montpelier on a special train this noon.

Lloyd Barry and Carroll Hardigan are passing a few days in Burlington with friends.

The condition of Mrs. George Andrews of Main street, who submitted to a serious operation at Hoston hospital ten days ago, continues to improve slowly. Mrs. James B. Estee and daughter went this morning to Burlington to pass the day.

Chief Connolly to-day arrested Bruno Chmerio, who lives at the corner of Barre and Granite street, on a warrant issued by Grand Juror Theriault, charging the theft of coal from the Central Vermont railroad tracks. On Sunday an engine bumped into a coal car and caused about two tons, it is said, to fall out of the car onto the ground. When men went to the place the following day to re-load the coal, it had disappeared from the ground. Two other warrants have been issued.

The front trucks of the 10:30 electric car for Barre went up the Main line and the rear trucks took the Seminary hill track at the 84th avenue intersection this forenoon, causing 25 minutes delay in the service. The car was in charge of Motorman Baldwin and Conductor Coppins.

Frank Bixby of Chelsea and H. S. Smith are buying stock for market.

The correspondent was misinformed in regard to the arrival of Mrs. Brooks at her summer home here, as stated in Friday's paper. She was expected Wednesday of last week, but owing to bad weather did not arrive until Monday.

Mrs. C. M. Colby's mother and sister from Morrisville are visiting here.

The entertainment given by the Friendship club Thursday evening was well attended, the adjoining towns being well represented. The drama, "How the Story Grew," was well presented, and the recitations by the little folks were worthy of mention. There was vocal and instrumental music, and the entertainment closed with appropriate remarks by Rev. Meek, the pastor of the church. Rev. Struthers, a former pastor, also made a few remarks to the company, after which a bountiful supper was served.

Mrs. Harry Crockett of Northfield Falls visited Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Burroughs a few days last week.

Mrs. Frank Mason of West Topsham visited her cousin, Mrs. George Feleh, Monday.

Miss Murdena Smith has returned to Groton pond after a short visit here with friends and relatives.

Mrs. George Williamson, a former resident of Barre, who has been spending a few weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Newcomb of Merchant street and with other friends in the city, left last evening for Detroit, Mich., where she will make a brief sojourn before proceeding to her home in Tipton, Ia., where Mr. Williamson is engaged in the retail monument business.

Chief C. B. Gladding of the local fire department has received an invitation to the annual convention of the International Association of Fire Engineers, which is to be held in Cincinnati, O., Aug. 31 and Sept. 1 and 2. A number of Vermont members of the association are planning to attend, although Chief Gladding is undecided as to whether he will join the state delegation on the trip.

Electricians were at Intercity park today wiring the grandstand for the illumination to be used in connection with the open-air movies which the Barre & Montpelier traction & Power Co. are to run during the remainder of the summer. The first double bill will occur at the park next Sunday evening, when Charlie Chaplin will be the entertainer. The usual weekly band concert at Benjamin falls is to be omitted on account of a picnic.

Two small boys, Giacomo Ferrari and Stephano Rugo, with their mothers and a contingent of friends appeared in city court this morning to plead their cases before Judge H. W. Scott. The boys were taken in custody by Officer Dusen near the Cable street and bank Saturday night and held for their alleged connections with the theft of wire belonging to the Consolidated Lighting Co. (This morning in a heart-to-heart talk with the magistrate, the boys said they found the wire on Maple avenue, admitted their indiscretion in leading the wire and carrying it away without consulting the owner. Judge Scott took a fling at the heart-to-heart line of cross-examination and testimony, questioned the mothers and then told the boys to go home. Pending good behavior charges against the boys will not be pressed.

D. J. Boyce, who left Barre three years ago the coming fall and who is now located at Casa Grande, Ariz., arrived in the city yesterday afternoon for a combined business and pleasure visit. Mr. Boyce has invested in land in Casa Grande and has been largely instrumental in building up that place from a tank station of 200 white people to a city of about 5,000. The other inhabitants are Indians and Mexicans. Casa Grande has a mayor and council, and Mr. Boyce was a member of the first city council, his term expiring last June, at which time he was asked to run for mayor but declined for several reasons. From 30 to 25 miles south of Casa Grande are lead, copper and silver mines, and Casa Grande is the shipping point for them. Part of Mr. Boyce's business visit is to try to influence Barre people in his adopted city.

EAST MONTPELIER

Stonesheds Here, Long Idle, to Open Soon in Charge of J. B. Martell.

East Montpelier will take a new lease of life, when the stonesheds, idle for so many years, are reopened. It is now an assumed fact that in the near future about 20 stonecutters will begin work in the Bailey plant, under the management of Jonas B. Martell of Plainfield. Repairs on the derrick are now beginning, and the sheds are being cleared of the lumber stored there. It is earnestly hoped that the enterprise will succeed and wax strong until stonecutting becomes once more the leading industry of the east village.
